

1 from them. Then we had before us the Assistant Attorney
2 General, Norman Polovoy, who, as you know, is the 3 Attorney General assigned the head of the Consumer
4 Protection law that was just passed by the General Assembly
5 this year, and Mr. Polovoy appeared before us and gave 6 some very pointed and enlightening remarks of what 7 ~~he thought~~ <sup>as to</sup> and why this should be in the constitution.

8 In answer to your second question, when we first 9 considered this, we had the basic question, should this even 10 be in the Constitution, ~~and~~ <sup>At</sup> that time there were 11 nine members present and the vote was six to three that 12 there should be something in the constitution protecting 13 consumers. Then after discussion and hearing from the 14 different proponents of it, I must say that none appeared 15 in opposition to it, but after hearing from the proponents,
16 we ~~did take a vote~~ <sup>took on the specific language</sup> -- I do not have ~~it here~~ <sup>the vote</sup>. If you will 17 give me a minute or so I can look it up, ~~but~~ <sup>in favor of</sup> As I recall, 18 it was ~~about~~ a 9 to 3 or 4 vote ~~for~~ the adoption of this 19 GP-4.
